Bernadette,

How often can you say that you are truly proud to be associated with a group of people or a specific project? On Monday, April 9, 2007, I was proud; proud of Angel Flight of Georgia, proud to know, if only by name, David Williams, and proud in knowing that I played a small role in doing something truly good by working along side of Angel Flight of Georgia in arranging a medical flight home for one of American's Special Operations Forces soldiers and his wife.

My words do not come close to express what a wonderful thing that Angel Flight and volunteer pilot David Williams (along with his wife) provided to this brave Army Ranger by providing air transportation from a naval medical physicality in Virginia to Columbus, Georgia. Without a doubt, this wounded warrior will heal quicker and in better spirits from his home in Georgia. Monday evening I spoke with this young Ranger's wife, she stated that they had a great experience throughout the entire Operation One Voice / Angel Flight mission. I could hear it in her voice; this Angel Flight mission has changed her and her husband's life in a positive way.

Please express my sincere appreciation to all the volunteers at Angel Flight, especially to Mr. and Mrs Williams for providing their time and airplane to transport a wounded warrior home to heal so that he may return to his profession defending our nation.

I am honored to call you a team mate.
